

Last week when I called my friend Whitney, I asked what she was doing.

She said, "Something has been stinking up my pantry, and I just found it! It's a package of burrito wrappers that went bad. I've thrown them away, and now everything is smelling better!"

And I thought, "Gosh, Beliefs can be just like that - they stink up the place until you dig them out and get rid of them."

Beliefs like

- I'm not good enough
- Everyone else is doing the same thing I'm doing, what do I have to offer?
- If I get well known and successful, I won't have any time to myself - I'll have to work all the time!

That's why I offer monthly free TeleEvents - so that you can discover the smelly Beliefs in your own pantry (Subconscious Mind)!

Last month, I was delighted when one student emailed me after the TeleEvent about How Inherited Beliefs Can Restrict Your Success

She said, "I now see that my family belief that 'women don't have careers' has kept me from pursuing my own career 100%. Now that I realize that Belief, I can let it go. I feel so good and positive about building my business now. Thank you!"

If you feel that some Beliefs are holding you back from going for your goals and dreams 100%, join me on Thursday, April 15 2010 at 12:00pm EDT for our next Create More Now Community TeleEvent. It is free and will help you uncover Business Beliefs that interfere with your success, prosperity, and fulfillment.

Our Topic: "How to Access the Beliefs That Are Holding You Back"
